JUDGMENT

Koshy,J.

W.P.(C)No.34653 of 2006 is filed alleging police harassment and interference in civil disputes. W.P.(C)No.624 of 2007 is filed for police protection for life and property of the petitioner. Petitioners in both cases are close relatives. According to the petitioner in W.P.(C)No.624 of 2007, he has already filed a civil case, but, according to the petitioner in W.P.(C)No.34653 of 2006 that case is not relating to the disputes of property in this case. If there is any civil disputes between the parties, it is for the parties to approach the civil court and get appropriate orders. In a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India we are not deciding the question of title, possession etc. of parties. However, police is directed to see that law and order is maintained and complaints, if any, received shall be looked into and if the allegations are found correct, take appropriate action without interfering in civil disputes.

Both writ petitions are disposed of accordingly.
